

OFFICE OF
CHARLES F. BRUSH,
453 THE ARCADE,
CLEVELAND, O.

Nov. 17-98

Prof. Henry S. Carhart

Ann Arbor

My dear Sir:

Have read with much interest your contribution to The Electrical World, on "Separation of the iron losses of a transformer," copy of which you so kindly mailed me.

Am sorry to find myself getting rusty in electrical matters. But I worked the bread & butter phase of the subject so many years, that when the opportunity offered, I sought my scientific recreation in other fields. Hence the rust.

With kindest regards to yourself and Mrs. Carhart, I am,

Very truly yours

C. F. Brush
